COMMENTARY:

- Receivals still trickled in throughout Southern NSW and Victoria over the festive season, with recent wet weather set to drag out harvest operations well into January.
- Wimmera and Central Victoria clusters are seeing the most action, with growers still expected to deliver in these areas throughout January.
- Direct-to-port receivals are continuing in Victoria, particularly to Geelong.
- Some sites open by appointment only now – growers encouraged to keep in direct contact and communicate with local site and area managers on opening hours and delivery information.
